Amusement Park Accident Probed

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Whether the Memorial Day holiday crowd rides the roller coaster at nearby Buckeye Lake amusement park next weekend depends on the findings of an engineering firm. If engineers find—and remedy—the cause of a derailment that injured 15 persons Saturday night, the roller coaster will roll, park officials said.

If not, it will stay shut down until the experts learn why the three-car train disengaged from its lifting chain, sheared off a safety catch and roared backward down the 75-foot incline it had been climbing.

The malfunction happened about 15 feet up, Licking County Sheriff William McElroy said. At the bottom of the incline, the cars left the tracks on a curve and rolled against a protective fence. It held—and the cars stopped.

Amusement park employees, the Ohio Highway Patrol, sheriff's men and other police rushed the 15 passengers to City Hospital here. Seven were released after examination. Eight were kept overnight.

Of the eight, only three remained hospitalized Sunday afternoon, and one of those was released later in the day. He is Robert McKay Jr., 24, son of the amusement park manager. His injury was described by hospital attendants as a twisted back.

However, Mrs. Joseph Long, 15, of Zanesville, remains in City Hospital with head injuries. She is in fair condition.

The third person still hospitalized is Sylvia Irene Segal, 19, of Cincinnati, an Ohio State University coed. Transferred to Grant Hospital in Columbus, she is in fair condition with head injuries. "It was strictly a mechanical failure," Parn Manager McKay said of the accident. "We are calling in a firm of engineers and the ride will not be opened until it is ruled safe for operation."

Overhauled during the winter, the roller coaster was put in operation April 21. There were about 4,000 persons in the park when the accident happened.

Senate Committee To Open Hearings On New Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparently accepting as final President Eisenhower's two-month-old veto of a price support freeze, the Senate Agriculture Committee starts work today on a new approach to farm legislation.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) asked leaders of two large farm organizations to open the two weeks of hearings at which the committee will try to develop a workable program.

Eisenhower vetoed on March 31 a bill which would have fixed support prices on major crops at not less than their levels last year. Acreage restrictions also would have been held up to this year's levels. He called such action ill-advised both for farmers and for the nation.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) asked senators to give a careful review to the Eisenhower veto before deciding whether to try to override or start anew.

Ellender's moves indicate the Senate will not attempt to upset the veto. This would require a two-thirds vote, a larger margin than the 48-32 margin that sent the farm freeze to the White House.

Numerous proposals are pending before the committee, but there were no firm indications what type of measure may emerge.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), ranking Republican on the committee, said there is a good chance for congressional agreement if a new farm bill is restricted to cotton, rice, and corn and other livestock feed grains.

"If we try to load it down with other crops and various farm area pet plans then we will be in trouble and probably get nothing," he said.

Aiken said the main theme for altering cotton and rice programs is to allow domestic growers to produce more in order to retain export markets developed in recent years.

Aiken said corn and other feed grains present a special problem now because few farmers have been complying with government controls. Huge surpluses are threatening.

UAW Talks Are In Final Stage

Pacts With 'Big 3' Expire Within 7 Days

DETROIT (AP)—This is show-down week as negotiations between the United Auto Workers and the auto industry's Big Three enter the final stage.

Contracts at Ford, Chrysler and General Motors covering hundreds of thousands of workers expire within seven days or less.

With expiration in mind, 250 Ford Motor Co. executives from across the nation assembled here to figure out steps to be taken in any eventuality. The Ford-UAW agreement runs out next Sunday.

"Because of the many uncertainties involved, the company is preparing to handle any situation that might arise," said John S. Bugas, Ford vice president for industrial relations and head of the company's bargaining team.

Bugas said possibilities run a wide range from a new contract to continuing operations without one. Ford and the UAW have not operated without a contract since 1941.

Chrysler's agreement also expires Sunday. General Motors' contract runs out Thursday night. Ford and GM resumed negotiating today with Chrysler waiting until Tuesday.

The Big Three legally could shut their plants to force a contract settlement. But there was no hint of what they would do if contract deadlines pass without agreement.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said a management lock-out "would mean a deterioration in long-range collective bargaining."

The UAW previously ordered its members to work without contracts if agreements were not attained.

The UAW is standing firm on its demands for an annual wage boost of at least 10 cents an hour, increased supplemental unemployment benefits, and cost of living allowances for retired workers. Reuther said.

4 Women Certified For Police Posts

Mrs. Gordon Edwards of 1204 Newgarden Ave. placed high on the Civil Service examination given Friday night at City Hall for the positions of Salem policewomen. Roy Harris, Civil Service Commission clerk, reported.

Three others, Mrs. Thomas Ferris of 1241 E. State St., Mrs. Donna Manning of 408 W. Pershing St., and Mrs. William Ritchie of 339 W. 5th St., also received high grades. The four women were certified to Dr. R. J. McConnor, safety director, as acceptable for the job.

Appointments will be made following study of the applicants' grades and other qualifications.

Twelve applications for the examination were received. Nine women appeared at City Hall Friday night to take the exam, but only eight were qualified.

The salary is $200 per month for the first year, $225 for the second year, and $250 for the third and each succeeding year.

Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Ritchie were hired as "provisional appointees" following City Council's passage Oct. 15, 1957, of an ordinance authorizing the hiring of two women to handle parking meter duties for an initial period of six months.

Runaway Salem Boys Found In Massillon

Three runaway Salem boys, ranging in age from 12 to 14, were being held in custody today by Massillon police following their apprehension this morning at 2:30.

The boys left Salem on the 6:53 p. m. train Sunday night for Alliance here they boarded a bus to Canton.

Local police issued a state-wide alert for the boys following notification of their disappearance.

Fastest Sub In World Set For Launching

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The United States continues its push for underwater military supremacy today with the launching of the world's fastest and deadliest submarine, the Skipjack.

The 250-foot sharklike atomic craft is expected to outperform all existing submarines and set new standards for the Navy's growing nuclear undersea fleet.

She is named for a quick, sly, tough fish of the mackerel family. Her nonstop range is 60,000 miles.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, will give the address at the launching ceremonies. The submarine will be christened by Mrs. George H. Mahon, wife of Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.).

The Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., builder of the vessel, says the craft's limp-shaped hull and other innovations should enable her easily to smash records set by the first three atomic subs, Nautilus, Seawolf and Skate.

Six additional subs of her class have been ordered by the Navy. As the prototype of a new class the Skipjack costs an estimated 40 million dollars. Subsequent models will be less expensive.

Council Holds Special Meeting

Leetonia Sewage Plant Repair Program Pushed

By ELEANOR COPPERSMITH
LEETONIA—The Board of Public Affairs was authorized to formulate final plans for the proposed repairs and installation of new equipment at the sewage treatment plant at a special meeting of Village Council Saturday afternoon.

The proposed improvements are in compliance with the requirements of the Ohio State Water Pollution Control Board.

Action was taken following the receipt last week of a letter from the state board containing its refusal to renew the village's permit to discharge waste materials into Little Beaver Creek.

Plans for the sewage plant repairs were submitted earlier to the Board, but were rejected because two new pieces of equipment were not included in the program.

Record Vote Seen In Italian Election

ROME (AP)—A record turnout seemed in prospect today as late voters hurried to cast their ballots for deputies in Italy's third post-war Parliament.

The Interior Ministry said more than 77 per cent of the eligible voters—about 25 million—cast ballots Sunday.

At stake were five-year terms for all 596 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and six-year terms for the 246 Senate places. Voting is compulsory.

Two hundred thousand police and soldiers patrolled the booths but there were few incidents.

The generally apathetic, six-week campaign pitted a dozen major parties ranging from the Communists to the Fascists. In the center are the ruling Christian Democrats trying to retrieve the absolute majority they lost in 1953. They got 40 per cent of the vote then and had to form a coalition with other center parties.

The Reds and their fellow-traveling Socialists collected about 34 per cent of the popular vote in the last election five years ago.

Joining in the vain rescue attempt was Concepcion Tomas, who saw a little girl thrashing in the water and dashed from his parked car. He arrived too late to reach Janice or his own daughter. The seven bodies were recovered within an hour and a half.

Nation Menaced By Civil War, Pflimlin Warns

Gaullist Leaders Say Crusade Spreading Throughout Empire

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Pflimlin today warned an emergency session of Parliament that a civil war is threatening and called on all Frenchmen to defend their basic liberties.

The embattled Premier went before the Assembly as the rightist drive to boost Gen. Charles de Gaulle to power spread through the overseas empire. France's worst postwar crisis was darkening hourly.

Insurgents in Algeria and Corsica claimed new successes. They boasted their crusade to put De Gaulle at the helm had spread to French Equatorial and West Africa, and New Caledonia and Tahiti in the Pacific.

Poses Grim Problem

Renewed fighting between French and Tunisian forces in southern Tunisia posed a grim problem. The government, in an effort to avert a Tunisian complaint to the Security Council, reportedly agreed to withdraw all French troops to the north coast area around the Bizeste naval base. But there was no assurance the military would honor the order.

In France the giant Communist-led Confederation of Labor called on its members working in government arsenals to "meet immediately to plan counteraction against the Fascist aggression." This raised the possibility the workers would try to seize arms if rightists mobs took to the streets in support of De Gaulle.

To Meet in Paris
Friends of De Gaulle reported he would come to Paris tonight, and there were unconfirmed rumors that a meeting had been arranged between him and Pflimlin.

Previously De Gaulle was cool to an overture that he mediate between the government and the insurgents in Algeria, but his friends said the general within 48 hours would issue a declaration deploring the insurrection in Corsica. They added he would say once again that he is available to lead the government.

Pflimlin told the Assembly there had been "no justification and no excuse" for the military-led seizure of power in Corsica.

He said the government has already increased its security measures to prevent spread of the pro-Gaullist insurgency to the French mainland.

Strives to Stem Revolt
Striving to stem the tide of revolt, the government:

1. Cut off communications and supplies to the insurgents who consolidated their control of Corsica with Algeria-type public safety committees.

2. Extended censorship to all news distributed in France—whether from French territories or from abroad. The French police seized today's issue of the European edition of the New York Herald Tribune for publishing a declaration of support for the rebel generals in Algeria by Adm. Philippe Auboyneau, the navy commander in the Mediterranean.

3. Announced government officials and military personnel who took part in the Corsica uprising would be fined and jailed.

4. Asked the Assembly to order expulsion from Parliament of any deputy who works against the unity of the republic. The bill was aimed at Corsican Deputy Pascal.

3 Burglaries In County Reported

LISBON — Three breaking and enterings involving approximately $137 in cash, merchandise and damages were reported to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan this morning.

A beverage vending machine was broken into and $2 in change was stolen at the King's Court Service Station along Route 30, about three miles north of East Liverpool. Bob Karger, operator, said the machine received about $15 in damages in the forced opening.

Six wrist watches, four lighters and $10 in cash, plus an undetermined amount of change from cigarette and juke box machines, were reported stolen at the Ference tavern and gas station at junction of Route 30 and Y & O road. The thieves forced open the front door to gain entrance.

Thieves broke a rear window to gain entrance to the White Spot restaurant and gas station on Route 30 just east of Minerva.

They took 10 cigarette lighters, 10 pen knives and about $10 worth of change from the cash register, according to Serena Swank, the owner.

Newsman Describes U.S. Bomber 'Raid'

LORING AIR FORCE BASE, Maine (AP)—A 5,000-mile night-time jaunt eight miles above the earth is routine for the men flying the B52 intercontinental bomber—but a new thrill for an outsider.

Lifting some of the secrecy from this giant of the jets, the Air Force for the first time has permitted a newsman to go along on a B52 training mission.

This one was a 10-hour simulated nuclear bombing run which included radar jamming and refueling.

Ranging a zigzag, roundabout course of 5,000 miles or more, 12 B52s rained make-believe atomic death on successive bombing targets in Richmond, Va., St. Louis, Mo., and St. Paul, Minn.

Launched from this northern Maine base at 10-minute intervals, the big eight-jet Boeing bombers attacked from altitudes of 41,000 to 43,000 feet. Electronic scoring equipment on the ground tracked up the devastating accuracy that has become standard with B52s of the Strategic Air Command.

The mission also included ECM runs—sorties involving the use of electronic countermeasures to jam the enemy's radar—against Air Defense Command radar stations near Burlington, Vt., Williamsport Pa., and Kirksville, Mo.

There was a planned attempt by a radar-jamming simulator on the ground at St. Louis to knock out the radar aids by which the B52s navigated their way through darkness toward their targets.

The men aboard the B52s matched their wits against this simulator. When they could no longer identify on their radar scopes the landmarks along their course, the B52 operators switched in other frequencies.

In spite of this interference they worked their way in and hit their targets.

Already in production for delivery later this year is an improved version, the B52G. This can carry in addition to bombs the supersonic, nuclear-armed Hound Dog guided missile which can be fired while still hundreds of miles from the target.

Newsman here and at Westover Air Force Base, Mass., also were permitted for the first time to watch "cocked" B52s—that is, bombers fully loaded with atomic weapons and fueled and ready for action—take part in practice alerts.

The average time for these cocked bombers, from the instant of the alarm until all eight engines were roaring and ready for taxiing, was eight minutes.

Commented Maj. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney Jr., commander of the 8th Air Force: "These men have a fantastic responsibility. I remember back in 1948, when we wrote the first war plans, we thought in terms of retaliation within six days of an enemy attack."

"Then we cut it down to hours. Now we can be off in 15 minutes—and over the target a very few hours later."

Hamilton Man to Go On Trial For Murder

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Shirley Edward Campbell, a husky former hospital orderly, is slated to go on trial today on a murder charge.

Campbell, just turned 21, is charged with pushing a student nurse to her death from the roof of Mercy Hospital here after she resisted his advances.

The victim, Miss Sylvesta Gertrude Andy, 20, a Negro, tumbled 75 feet to her death on a sidewalk last Jan. 17. She had been a patient at the hospital.

Police said Campbell, who is white, denied any knowledge of the girl's death but later signed a statement admitting he pushed her off the roof.

Campbell has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to charges of first degree murder while attempting rape.

Eisenhower to Help Drive Continues for Expansion Of Post Office Facilities Here

SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower prepared today to help dedicate the Shippingport atomic power plant, the nation's pioneer venture in large-scale production of commercial electricity from the atom.

Technicians readied an electronic hookup permitting the President to activate the plant's generator by remote control from Washington.

Duquesne Light Co., a Pittsburgh utility, owns the 110-million-dollar plant jointly with the Atomic Energy Commission.

The world's first full-scale nuclear power station devoted exclusively to production of commercial electricity, it represents the greatest industrial achievement to date in America's drive to tame the atom for peace.

In operation since last Dec. 18, the plant has generated more than 32 million kilowatt hours of electricity for Duquesne Light's system, which serves 450,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers in Allegheny (Pittsburgh) and Beaver counties.

Rudy Linder, chairman of the special civic action committee of Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers, that is spearheading the drive to promote expanded facilities for the Salem Post Office, announced today that his committee was still pressing for action on the project.

Linder said recent communications received from postal and legislative officials have brightened prospects of some improvement plan for the post office.

Linder received word from W. R. Fudge, regional operations manager of the Postal Department in Cincinnati, to the effect that Salem has been placed fifth in priority for a postal survey in the tri-state area comprising Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Date of the survey was not specified, but Fudge indicated that it would be made in the immediate future.

Linder also received a letter from Bert B. Barnes, deputy assistant postmaster general, in answer to the letter sent to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield requesting action here.

Barnes stated, "We realize the need for postal space at Salem and are making an extensive effort at this time to secure the necessary funds to provide suitable facilities there and at all other places where needed. If pending postal rate legislation is approved, we can proceed immediately with plans to rehabilitate and modernize many federal buildings and, based on comparative needs, the Salem post office would then be among those considered."

The pending legislation mentioned by Barnes has now been passed by both the House and the Senate and is awaiting action by President Eisenhower.

Acting Postmaster O. C. Hoover has also lined up some support of the project. C. C. Brooks, district operations manager for the Postal Department in Cleveland, has promised his full support and backing.

Clarence White, plant engineer for Youngstown Kitchens, made a scale drawing of his suggestions on how to alleviate the crowded conditions at the post office.

White's drawing, along with pictures and a statement of facts and conditions, was furnished to Brooks by Hoover.

Brooks has promised to prod the Cincinnati headquarters into prompt action on getting a building survey here to determine the needs to provide for more efficient operations of the post office.

The UCT committee headed by Linder includes Walter J. Hunston, Guy Mauro, George Bowman Jr., Galen Greenstein, William J. Mackey, William M. Schaeffer and Ray Reich.

Hauge Predicts Slump Will Lose 'Steam' in June

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Gabriel Hauge, White House economic adviser, predicts the recession will have about lost its steam by the end of June.

"We should begin to see some lift evident in the autumn," he added in a filmed television interview.

During the last half of the year, he said, some of the federal programs designed to combat the recession will begin to produce results.

"In the housing field," he said, "some of these effects are already evident."

Meanwhile, automobile manufacturers were urged to "resist to the bitter end" anything that will boost car prices.

The plea came from the National Assn. of Automobile Dealers. In a letter to the major car makers, Association President Dean Chaffin said: "From the dealer's viewpoint, automobiles are priced too high right now. In fact, many of us believe we have priced ourselves right out of the market."

On another economic front, the Commerce Department said Americans applied the brake last year on adding to their debts. The report said net public and private debt increased during 1957 by 26 billion dollars to a total of 726 billion. The increase was down slightly from 1956 and less than half that for 1955.

Stritch Conscious After Restless Night

ROME (AP)—Samuel Cardinal Stritch spent a very restless night but was conscious today and recognized those attending him.

Msgr. James Hardiman, private secretary to the 70-year-old Roman Catholic Archbishop of Chicago, reported on the condition of the prelate.

The cardinal last Monday suffered a stroke which partially paralyzed him, and over the week-end his condition weakened progressively. Msgr. Hardiman said he had been unable to take even liquid nourishment since Sunday. His doctors announced that the stroke had damaged his heart. He was placed in an oxygen tent for a time, and prayers for the dying were said.

Houses are like people. The healthier they are, the happier they are.

How about your house? Is it a happy home for your family, free of small but dangerous flaws, safe from the ever-present threat of blight and decay? Make sure it is by making timely repairs. Remember that blight needs only a tiny toe hold to grow and spread.

Stay alert. Protect your home, guard your neighborhood. Carelessness and neglect are contagious. One shabby home leads to another. A few blighted houses can start a slum... raise your taxes, rob you of school and business opportunities, impair local facilities of all kinds.

Keep your property in healthy shape. Make timely repairs at home... then join your neighbors in community-improvement groups. Safeguard your family's future now by writing for practical, effective information to:

The Idea Is Sensible But --

Latest in a series of wistful proposals for a meeting of minds in management and organized labor under White House auspices has been made by Lansing P. Shields, president of the Grand Union Co., a food chain.

The major problem threatening our economic and social system, Mr. Shields believes, is the wage price spiral, which could raise the price of an ordinary automobile to $7,000 in another 10 years, unless the value of money can be stabilized. Shoes would cost $40 a pair, steak would be $3 a pound and the value of all insurance and pensions would be virtually wiped out.

Therefore, it seems sensible to Mr. Shields to bring together a representative group of managers and labor leaders to discuss their joint problem and reach a joint decision not to pursue any further the policies that have been taking away the value of money. Specifically, it seems sensible to Mr. Shields to call off the tail-chasing game of wage-price increases and settle down in earnest to stabilize the wage-price structure so the value of dollars will be stabilized.

No one can quarrel with him about his belief it would be sensible. But beyond that, scarcely anyone can believe there could be such a conference or that if it were tried there could be any result.

Voluntary wage stabilization to go along with price stabilization was proposed and tried under the Truman administration. It was a fiasco.

No union representative dared to take the position that labor's best interests would be served in the long run by abandoning the rate and letting employers worry about meeting it.

The catch is that employers long ago quit worrying about meeting wage increases, worrying about meeting wage increases. They merely increased their prices to cover the wage increases, with something to spare, and let customers worry about meeting the price increases.

But the customers did not worry either. They merely passed along the price increases to their employers in the form of demands for further wage increases. The tail-chasing became so highly organized that some wage contracts call for automatic increases whenever prices have increased so many points on a price index.

The devaluation of money has become a system that leaves nothing to chance. Whether it's called devaluation or inflation depends on who is describing it. To persons with savings in fixed amounts or with pension claims and insurance policies, it is devaluation. To persons hoping to get a momentary advantage by chasing wage rates up the inflationary spiral, a little faster than price increases could follow, it is inflation.

If Mr. Shields could figure out a way to stop it, he would be a genius. First, he would have to decide who starts it, and that would be like trying to find out who killed Cock Robin.

Harold Stassen and Silky Sullivan

The main question pending before the What-Now Club is what will become of Harold E. Stassen and Silky Sullivan, now that they have faltered in the stretch.

Stassen, more than Silky, who still has the youth the one-time boy governor of Minnesota as used up, is running out of stretches to falter in. He hasn't won any of the big ones since 1942, when he finished first in his third race for governor of Minnesota, where he knew the track and could run on the inside.

Since then, he has been available for the lightning to strike, if it could find no better place. He has been available for the Republican presidential nomination, or for throwing monkey wrenches into the hopes of other aspirants since 1944. He has kept his name and his picture hopefully in the newspapers.

The Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania would have put him back in the news with the biggest bang since he tried to foul up Richard Nixon's availability for the GOP vice presidential nomination in 1956. But in his bid for favor in Pennsylvania, this week, he repeated what has become a favorite blunder, like the batter who cannot resist the temptation to hit at a low pitch that would be a ball if he could restrain himself.

Stassen is an unrestrained sucker for fights his opponents cannot lose, like his Ohio fight against Bob Taft in 1952. His opponent in Pennsylvania was Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican state finance chairman and organization candidate in a state where the organization takes a dim view of being pushed around by native sons and goes on the war-path when challenged by interlopers like Stassen, whose only Keystone coloration was a tempestuous term as president of the University of Pennsylvania, when that seemed to be as good a way as any of keeping his name from being forgotten. The McGonigle vote was twice as large as the Stassen vote, which tells the story.

There is a serious side to all this — a mystery, in fact. It is what power holds Harold E. Stassen aloft and makes it possible for him to have a lengthening career in public life without being able to get elected to a public office. Obviously, he represents something that somebody thinks is valuable... perhaps the right of every American boy to hope for the presidency.

A Show of Patriotism

Friday brings Memorial Day, a holiday for most of us but also a time of patriotic reflection on the deeds of our fallen heroes.

Each year the allied veterans organizations in Salem sponsor the parade and observances at Hope and Grandview cemeteries. The job of planning the city's Memorial Day observance involves detailed effort on the part of the officers and committees of the veterans groups. A few do so much.

The public can and should attend the services at the cemeteries to pay tribute to the war dead of the past who sacrificed their lives in combat. We owe them that respect.

Once Over

Too many salesmen, especially in auto biz, have been greeting potential buyers with the "Dr. Livingstone, I presume" routine. There has been a "Never give a customer the impression he is ahead" mood. This emphasized by the top man at the National Sales Executives Convention who declares salesmen have been putting little on the ball.

"Many present-day salesmen entered business after the last war with no experience and thinking their job was merely to make a product available," he said. He's got something. For the last 15 years an auto salesman who got off his seat promptly, gave swift welcome to a customer and seemed to relish interruption of "the funnies," has not been common.

A man could wander around many auto showrooms full of salesmen and wonder if he had smallpox. There were cases where auto buyers visited showrooms just to get the "I wanna be alone" feeling.

THE CONVENTION speaker also took a swing at management, saying they, too, had been too aloof and indifferent, lacking the old time "drive" that made salesmen flash ability "or else." Well, discussing things with the boss has been a chilly routine, as many car buyers will testify. But they have been up against a new "don't raise your voice to me" mood in manager-employee relations.

In all phases of industry a stern, aggressive attitude toward lazy help has caused walkouts, strikes or sympathy demonstrations. A mere "You've got to do better or get out" from the boss can throw the joint into a turmoil and maybe close it up.

"Top executives have got to get out of their fine cars and start riding trucks," says the convention speaker. (Oh, yeah? A switch from Cadillac to trucks could get them into a jurisdictional rumpus.)

WHAT'S BECOME of the old-time auto

Good Music

Fine voices of girls and boys of the Salem High School Robed Choir blended in perfect harmony for another outstanding concert by the choral organization Friday night in the school auditorium. A near-capacity crowd attended.

It is little wonder that the Robed Choir and the High School band won superior honors again this year in state competition. The choir's concert and the band's recent public performance emphasized anew the outstanding work that is being done in the field of music in the junior and senior high schools. Congratulations go to the students and instructors alike.

salesman who greeted customer with the speed of a man sliding into first base, smiled warmly made him feel an equal, exchanged introductions, told all about models with gusto and took the customer's name so he could follow up?

Where's the salesman and manager who used to phone about a demonstration? And sometimes say, "Take this car and drive it free over the weekend?"

ALAN FREED, barred from some cities over his rock 'n' roll sessions, which police said were followed by riots and bloodshed, is getting a program on RADIO! No comment! Some hair oil company could cash in by claiming its product is used by Pianist Van Cliburn and all the Kennedy brothers.

Veep Nixon has suggested that good relationships with South America could be helped by a post season visit by big league ball clubs. But wasn't it Mr. Nixon's windup and delivery that angered so many South Americans? Would they understand the statement from the American manager, "I have my best hurlers ready"? We fear the suggestion means little. Suppose we introduced American baseball to Venezuela and made frankfurters and mustard so popular they interfered with the production of Latin American sports stadium snacks? What would be the reaction to "Casey Stengel, go home" banners?

We know a man who says he had trouble getting inside Russia with John Gunther's "Inside Russia."

A touching moment in "Say Darling," if you have a small town background, comes when the village author hums a few lines of an old time gospel hymn "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning." A hardboiled Broadway producer, his nostalgia aroused, recalls that he, too, came from the sticks where the old hymn was known, and sings the chorus.

The Associated Newspapers

The Society for Unfair Translations of the Congressional Record met today to discuss a plan for substantially reducing the printing costs of Congress.

The plan, which calls for extensive use of abbreviations, was put forward by the executive committee of the society, a nonpartisan, nonessential, nonexistent group.

According to the report, the costs of printing the Record, now at $81 a page, could be easily chopped by at least one-third by following a procedure already well rooted in both the government and the communications fields.

For many years, the report pointed out, telegraphers have used SCOTUS to stand for the Supreme Court of the United States and POUSS to represent the President of the United States. Similarly, the Defense Department uses

SAC to mean the Strategic Air Command.

The transcript of floor debates in the House and in the Senate, the report argued, could be condensed by the use of similar abbreviations and would not lose an iota of intelligibility.

Aware of the reluctance of the lawmakers to make any change in traditional procedures, the chairman suggested that the system be installed by stages. At first, only procedural sentences would be recorded in the record by the initial system.

Thus, "I ask unanimous consent" would appear as "IAUC" and "Will the senator yield at that point?" would become "WTSYATP"

In the next stage, the system would be extended to a group of 187 phrases that frequency studies show are used on the floor an average of 210 times a day or more.

Plan of Nature

By TRUMAN TWILL

They, themselves, are nature, and they have improvement plans of their own.

So do other men, as a matter of fact, especially young ones. One year two inquisitive young ones pulled up all my vegetables to see what they looked like on the other end.

A band of errant sheep recently claimed a pear tree and a buckeye tree that had been nurtured for three years, then ate half a dozen rose bushes. One year another errant band ate 50 white pine seedlings. These things exist to be eaten, according to the plans of sheep, the same as new fruit trees exist to be eaten according to the plans of deer.

A tail-wagging hound whose heart is full of love looks at a new flower bed and says, "That is for me to dig a hole in. It will look a lot better that way." So the hounds dig a hole. That is the way it goes.

New gardeners will not like this, but they must learn to live with it. There will always be something to interfere with their great expectations. That is nature's plan.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"You always decide quick what you want to eat, Marge—why can't you make up your mind about getting married?"

Right Down the Middle

Why Not WTSYATP?

By DAVID BARNETT

In this group are: MEFOTOSOA — My esteemed friend on the other side of the aisle. . . .

IRTSBO — I rise to speak briefly on. . . .

IWLTAWTR — I would like to associate myself with the remarks of. . . .

IINAF — Is it not a fact. . . . In the last stage, phrases used between 100 and 210 times a day would be included. Among these are:

WOITOCATCT — We owe it to our children and their children to. . . .

TIWATCO — The world is at the crossroads of. . . .

TGOTCIAS — The good of the country is at stake. . . .

One member objected that the frequency study upon which the stages of implementation were based was already out of date. As an example, he noted that TINSOUITA, "There is no sense of urgency in the administration"; included in the top frequency list, no longer was on every Democratic lawmakers' lips.

The chairman said these details could be worked out IASOA, "in a spirit of accommodation." He noted the plan had great potential for future savings of time as well as money.

"Congressmen, when they become accustomed to the system," he argued, "might use it in floor speeches, thus cutting the length of congressional sessions and saving millions of the taxpayers' dollars."

Even a slow speaker, he pointed out, in a split second could say, "MEFOTOSOA knows IFTB. To KTROCC, I believe TPBAR to a powerful SAC." Much quicker, he said, than: "My esteemed friend on the other side of the aisle knows I favor this bill. To keep the record crystal clear, I believe the people have a right to a powerful Strategic Air Command."

Before a vote could be taken on the proposal, the meeting broke up when it was discovered that the dictionary put together for the project was missing.

Later, the chairman said the dictionary had been impounded by a security officer who thought it was a top-secret volume relating to Russian secret police agencies.

Equitable Tax Cuts

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Big Tug-of-War on New Tax Bill Shaping Up

The big tug-of-war on the new tax bill is shaping up. Unless a new tax law is passed before June 30, many rates automatically go down or are repealed.

Thus, if Congress didn't act, many excise taxes would be reduced. Also corporate tax rates would go down from 52 per cent to 47 per cent of net income.

This means that each group in Congress will have a certain leverage in the contest. A tax bill that favors low income groups altogether would run into the stiff opposition of a non-radical coalition of both Republicans and Democrats which would insist that something be done to give incentives to business.

Naturally the administration has been deferring the announcement of its own tax plan. This is because, if the debate on new rates were started now, it would perhaps cause a blow up in buying. When it is considered that autos and many consumer items could be affected by lower excise taxes, the hazard of a lengthy debate in Congress becomes obvious. There will be pressure, too, for lower rates on both passenger and freight transportation as well as lower rates on telephone calls and other items.

The Treasury, of course, is worried about the effect of all these changes on the federal deficit. For the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, the deficit will be about three billion dollars. For next year, it looks now like somewhere between eight and 10 billion dollars in the red. Much of this is due to the severe decline in corporate profits.

HOW THEN to stimulate corporate earnings it will not come by merely giving $2 a week for a year to every taxpayer. It has to come from factors that will lead to job creation.

The Treasury is likely, for tactical reasons, to resist at the outset any changes in the corporate rates. But a substantial sentiment is building in favor of at least a 2½ point reduction, which would mean the halfway mark between 52 and 47 per cent. Businessmen would like to feel that the government is not a majority but a minority partner in profits.

If businesses which are climbing back out of the recession can see a change to build up their surpluses, they can plan to invest in plant and equipment — something that is vitally needed if unemployment in the hard goods industries is to be materially reduced. And that's where the recession has hit hardest.

There are indications that the administration would like to see Congress do something about present depreciation policies. A hint of this comes in the statement just made to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee by the secretary of commerce, Sinclair Weeks. He said:

"Let us keep in mind that we more than four million private business enterprises, businessmen right now are engaged in decision making as to production, sales, prices, re-hiring, research, plant expansion and other activities. . . ."

"Confidence—the dynamic foundation of spending—is on the rise. Government must encourage that revival."

MR. WEEKS declared that many of the financial problems of the smaller business enterprises arise from taxation and the inability to obtain adequate amounts of equity capital. He said:

"It seems to me that one of the most direct and simplest approaches to the problem of providing adequate amounts of equity capital to small business would be to remove the present deterrents to the willingness to invest in such enterprises. . . ."

"I would like to see the Internal Revenue code amended to provide an ordinary loss deduction up to $50,000 in any one year for new investments made in small businesses having a paid-in capital of not more than one-half million dollars and a net worth position of not more than one million. . . . This would provide a tremendous stimulus to the thousands of small investors in this country."

Mr. Weeks also recommended the use of "the present accelerated depreciation methods on used equipment purchases not exceeding perhaps $50,000 in any one year." He said it seems likely that any increase in the purchases of used equipment would ultimately lead to large purchases of new equipment.

There were other proposals included by the secretary of commerce, such as permitting small corporations to be taxed as partnerships and a method of allowing estate taxes to be paid in a period of up to 10 years so as to prevent injury to investments in closely held corporations.

The statement by the secretary of commerce is indicative of the whole attitude which the administration intends to take toward tax legislation — to remove unnecessary burdens wherever possible in the excise tax field and to make changes that will provide a stimulus to business as a whole.

Soviets Softening Up?

By VICTORY E. LOUIS

MOWCOW

Soviet Russia, the land of Marx, Lenin and Stalin, is looking for an Emily Post.

Both the Moscow editions of Pravda and Izvestia as well as the provincial press have become increasingly critical of the rules of etiquette here—or, rather, the lack of them.

The Soviet education system has gone as far as it can go in stressing science, Soviet History and Marxist ideology. To date, however, there is no course on Communist etiquette.

Many a Soviet mother has complained that her daughter can speak copiously on the law of surplus value or on the reforms of Mao Tse-tung—but does not know how a girl should sit, how to behave when being introduced or how to accept a date. Boys are equally awkward in their social behavior, it is said.

THE PROBLEM is that not only is no course offered on these social essentials but there are no books available on the subject and few people can recall the nuances and courtesies of the old Czarist order.

"We parents lack knowledge of many things," wrote a Siberian railroad depot worker to "Komsomolskaya Pravda," official organ of the Communist youth organization. "No one ever taught us etiquette and no one is teaching it to our children." The author of this letter, a woman, suggested it was high time such instruction on this subject was offered in the schools.

Typical of other critical letters printed in the Soviet Press are: "In many schools children are not brought up to be well behaved and courteous; they are taught only to read and write and to know their sciences."

"We have been carried away by the idea of coeducation and we have ceased altogether to consider the differences between boys and girls. They should be talked to separately when discussing such things as female chastity or honorable rules of behavior for males."

The problem has grown to its present proportions because the new Soviet intelligentsia and managerial classes have come from proletarian backgrounds. Few workers or peasants had the time, knowledge or financial means to instruct their children in proper speech, dancing or even the correct way to hold a knife and fork.

made to meet the parental criticism. Lectures, sometimes broadcast over the radio, have been delivered on manners and morals—but the audience has found them rather dull and unenthusiastic.

One series, however, on the "Rules of Good Form," were read at a naval training school in Leningrad and were so popular that notes on the lectures were mimeographed and circulated among friends and relatives.

Many Soviet parents now suggest that an educational film be made on the "Rules of Good Form" and that it be shown widely in Soviet schools.

One reason for the total blank in Soviet literature on this subject is that the old Czarist forms of courtesy, as well as the ones in present capitalist countries, have been discredited here. "Bourgeois" books on etiquette, therefore, have not been published or translated in Soviet Russia since the 1917 revolution.

Finally, there is a tough ideological question which has yet to be answered and that is, what the Communist standards of etiquette should be—and whether there can be such standards at all. Karl Marx wrote nothing on this subject.

Measurements of Gravity Used To Determine Shape of Earth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Scientists are using gravity to get their first real, unclouded look at the gnarled and wrinkled face of old mother earth.

A seven-year research study based on hundreds of thousands of gravity measurements throughout the world is leading for the first time to accurate mapping of the bumps and dips in the earth's surface.

But that's only half the result of the years of massive computation by electronic calculators. The scientists also are getting more accurate measurement of distances.

The world-renowned Finnish scientist, Dr. Weikko A. Heiskanen, has headed the big Air Force-sponsored study at Ohio State University since it started in 1952.

He points out that the study already has shown, for instance, a correction of several hundred feet in the distance between Europe and North America.

Who cares? An Air Force missileman aiming a rocket at a point several thousand miles away cares very much.

It is announced recently that Explorer, first U.S. earth satellite, will be used to pinpoint the location of two islands in the Pacific, but Dr. Heiskanen points out the essential part of this work already has been accomplished at Ohio State on a worldwide scale.

How can measuring gravity determine the shape of the earth?

The force of gravity becomes less the farther away an object is from the center of the earth. Thus a person standing on a mountain weighs an infinitesimal fraction less than when he is standing in a valley. Scientists have developed fantastically accurate devices to detect the change in weight of objects—that is the force of gravity—at the different points on the earth's surface.

By comparing these changes of gravity they can arrive at a picture of the shape and size of the earth. All measurements of gravity are compared or related with the world standard measurement at the Helmer Tower at Potsdam, Germany.

The shape of the earth has been computed in Columbus at about 6,000 points. Dr. Heiskanen, believes the gravity-measuring method is the most inexpensive and dependable method of mapping the world. To date, the entire Ohio State project has cost the Air Force Center $464,576.

Scientists of 35 nations have helped the Ohio State laboratory assemble all of the world's available gravity data. The data includes important observations taken from submarines by Dr. F. A. Vening Meinesz, a Dutch scientist, and a Columbia University group headed by Drs. Maurice Ewing and J. Lamar Worzel.

Traveling by air under another Air Force research contract, a group led by Dr. G. P. Wollard of the University of Wisconsin has aided the Ohio State project by connecting all continents and many islands to the world gravimetric system.

Also included is valuable gravity data recently obtained from Antarctica. But still missing are many needed observations from the southern hemisphere. When these gaps are filled, the whole system will be more accurate. Dr. Heiskanen predicts this may happen within two years.

WINS $490,000 IN LOVE THEFT SUIT—A Chicago jury awarded a record $490,000 to Dr. Lester D. Odell, right, for alienation of the affections of his wife, Elaine Odell, 30, left. The verdict was against another physician, Dr. Emerson McVey, 46, now of Reno, Nev., who was best man at the Odell wedding. Dr. Odell alleges that Dr. McVey signed a notarized statement admitting intimacies with Mrs. Odell.

Student, Panamanian President Deadlocked

PANAMA (AP)—Rebellious students and President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. were still deadlocked today in their dispute which has paralyzed business since last Thursday's riots.

National Guardsmen kept Panama City quiet but tense under modified martial law.

The students, who are complaining of poor school conditions, have withdrawn their demands for the dismissal of the education minister and three National Guard commanders.

The student leaders now insist that De la Guardia release all those arrested after last week's rioting, in which 11 persons were killed and many more injured. The President refused but promised no reprisals would be taken against the students.

Russian Leader Sends Warm Greetings to Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Changing his tune, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has sent warm birthday greetings to Yugoslav President Tito.

Khrushchev's telegram congratulating Tito on his 66th birthday expressed "the hope that the misunderstandings which exist between the union of Communists of Yugoslavia and the Communist party of the Soviet Union and other fraternal parties, which are no secret, will be overcome."

Use of the word "misunderstanding" may indicate that the Soviet boss really is talking a milder tone. In the past he has accused Tito of "revisionism"—which means backsliding from Moscow's version of the Communist creed and is one of the most serious sins in the Kremlin's book.

The House of Assembly of the Bahamas is one of the oldest legislative bodies in the western hemisphere.

Greenford Grange Selects Dress, Cake-Baking Contests

Judging of dresses and cakes was the highlight of the recent Greenford Grange meeting.

Judges were Mrs. Bill Watt, Mrs. Lewis Brown and Mrs. Lester Safford.

Mrs. Salem Gromely won first prize and Mrs. Dorothy Evans won second in the angel food cake contest.

The dresses which won will be judged during Pomona Grange meeting at Goshen Grange hall. First and second, respectively, went to Mrs. William Gologram and Mrs. Don Howell. Miss Diane Gologram won first in the juvenile division.

Prior to the meeting the women of the grange served a banquet to 84 members of the Salem Bowling League.

PTA Officers Installed

The 1953-54 officers of the PTA were installed into office Monday night by Mrs. Francis Less. They are: President, James Justice, vice president, Mrs. Carl Roepke, secretary, Mrs. Lester Davis, and treasurer, Mrs. Roland McIntyre.

Mrs. Nellie Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Sherlock Cristoff of Burgettstown, Pa., were recent dinner guests of Mrs. Minnie Kunns.

A social time was enjoyed by the families of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rhodes Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Rhodes' birthday.

Veterans Guide

Q — I'm a Korea veteran, and it will be three years this fall since I was discharged from service. If I decide to go to school under the GI Bill, must I be in training within three years from discharge, or is it enough just to get my application in to VA?

A — You must actually be in training within three years from the date of your discharge. It is not enough merely to apply.

Q — I'm moving to another town and I don't want any mix-up in receipt of my VA compensation check. What do I do about my change of address, tell the Post Office, or the VA, or both?

A — Give your old and new address to your local Post Office, using a change-of-address form. This will ensure forwarding of your check. But to keep VA's records straight, and eliminate the need of forwarding, notify the VA also when you move.

Q — My wife and I are both veterans. The house we live in was bought with the aid of my GI loan, and we need a bigger one now, because our family has grown. Can my wife use her GI loan benefit for another house?

A — Yes. Your wife may still use her loan benefit even though you have used yours.

Q — Who can get a grant from the VA for a "wheelchair" home? Is it just disabled veterans of World War II and Korea, or are other veterans eligible?

A — Veterans of all wars, as well as those with pre-act time service, may qualify for "wheelchair" housing, so long as they meet the requirements set forth in the law.

Valerian J. Briceland, Bride Home From Honeymoon Trip

Home from a honeymoon trip to Florida and now residing in Wadsworth are Valerian J. Briceland and his bride, the former Carol Louise Williamson.

The couple was married May 3 at St. John's Catholic Church in Summitville, with the Rev. Fr. Henry J. Cibulka officiating.

Mrs. Briceland is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of Summitville.

Rose Ann Gauj of Summitville, cousin of the bride, was organist, and the church choir sang the nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a lace hat trimmed with pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid on her grandmother's prayerbook.

Mrs. Vernita Ocel, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. Miss Pat Williamson, the bride's sister, and Miss Sally Crist of Georgetown, a cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Christine and Catherine Ocel served as flower girls.

Edward Bryan of Summitville was best man. Donald Williamson brother of the bride, and Charles Briceland of Canfield, brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

A reception followed in the church hall. Mrs. George Williamson Sr., grandmother of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Paul Williamson of Cleveland and Mrs. John Lutz of Guilford Lake, aunts of the bride, served.

Mrs. Lowell Crist and Mrs. Mike Rohrer, cousins of the bride, were in charge at the gift table and guest book. Tim Lucas' orchestra from East Rochester played for dancing.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Columbiana High School. Her husband was graduated from Salineville High School in 1952. He spent three years in the Marine Corps and now is a construction laborer, with his present job location in Wadsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. O'Block of RD 5, Salem, announce the betrothal and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Edward J. Chizmar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Chizmar of 202 Smithfield St., Youngstown.

Open church will be observed for the wedding at 11 a.m. July 5 at St. Paul Catholic Church. An open reception will be held in the evening at 7:30 at the Cycle Club in Canfield.

Miss O'Block is employed as a teacher at St. Paul School. She is a junior at Youngstown University, majoring in elementary education.

Salad Dressing

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 2 1/2 teaspoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard, cayenne, 3 egg yolks, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk, 1-3 cup cider vinegar, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Method: Stir flour, salt, sugar, mustard and a few grains of cayenne together thoroughly in the top of a double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Gradually stir in to flour mixture, smoothing out after each addition. Slowly stir in vinegar.

Cook and stir constantly over very hot (just below boiling point) water until thickened and smooth—10 to 20 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in butter. Cover and place over cold water until cool. Store in tightly covered container in refrigerator. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

On the Bookshelves

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Every so often a novel comes along that in a very quiet way has a shattering impact on the reader. Such a book is "The Stars Grow Pale" by Karl Bjarnhof which tells in a perceptive way about a Danish boy who is called lazy, clumsy, and inattentive, until people gradually realize that he is growing blind.

"As Far As You'll Take Me" by Lorna Whishaw is a different type of travel book. Mrs. Whishaw hitch-hiked along the Trans-Canada and Alaska highways riding with truck-drivers and seeing Alaska as few tourists ever do.

OTHER FICTION

"September MOON" by John Moore. In Herefordshire when boys are ripe, old grudges, and young love seem to mature along with the crops. This is a tale of events in the valley when the hop-pickers arrive to bring in the harvest.

"A Dangerous Innocence" by Victoria Lincoln. In seventeenth century Salem, young Ann Evansham hints that her husband's old servant is a witch and becomes involved herself. Though this has the same setting as "Winthrop Woman" the plot is entirely different.

"Destiny in Sallas" by Shirley Seifert. On April 3, 1858 Alec Cockerell, leading citizen of Dallas, was returning to his wife and business when the town marshal attempted to satisfy his envious hate on a false charge that led to tragedy.

"Reckoning at Yankee Flat" by Will Henry. Western adventure concerning a bitter feud between a newspaperman and an outlaw which comes to a violent end in Virginia City.

"None of Maigret's Business" by George Simenon. Finding a corpse and solving the mystery hardly interrupt Maigret's vacation.

"The Copper Scrolls" by Nathaniel Weinreb. An imaginary picture of the Qumran community and the events leading up to the hiding of the Dead Sea Scrolls.

"The Land Is Bright" by Jim Kjelgaard. Colin Campbell, southern gentleman in pre-Civil War Virginia, had fine horses, a fine girl, and the friendship of Ling Stewart of the Blue Ridge. When war came Colin marched away at the head of the Blue Ridge men.

"Affair at Helen's Court" by E. C. Rivett. There was a lot of talk about Helen's Court, which was just too beautiful to be a medical home and about Dr. Ravensworth, its head.

"Beyond Wind River" by Les Savage, Jr. Frank Ives found himself on the wrong side of a fight between two Wyoming ranchers.

"The Gentle Tamers" by Dee Brown. The stories of twenty-four women of frontier days and the hardships they suffered, the dangers they faced from disease, Indians, outlaws and nature.

"World Politics" by A.F.K. Oranski. A history of international politics in modern times with special attention to the "balance of power" relationship between nations. The author surveys the ability of the United States to maintain world leadership.

"American Knives" by Harold Peterson. An expert in the field of arms and armor gives the history of American Knives tells why they are being collected, and gives suggestions for collectors.

"The Guns at Gettysburg" by Fairfax Downey. Another study of the Battle of Gettysburg, this time covering the effectiveness of artillery. Evaluations of the strategy employed by the Generals on both sides, and personal accounts of gunners make this book a valuable addition to the literature on the greatest battle of the Civil War.

"George Washington" by Marcus Cunliffe. A biography which attempts to separate Washington the man from Washington the myth. The author shows the reasons behind the many legends surrounding Washington.

"First Lady of the South" by Eshbel Ross. In this biography of the wife of Jefferson Davis, family records and letters contrast the first gay years of married life with the years of war, separation, and defeat.

"The Ordeal of Woodrow Wilson" by Herbert Hoover. The Republican President, who knows what it is to be blamed for events beyond his control, writes understandingly of another great President, a Democrat, faced with a war he had tried to avoid and with a devastating rejection of his peace plans by his own country.

"Space Research and Exploration" edited by D. R. Bates. A collection of articles by scientists on rockets, the upper stratosphere, cosmic radiation, satellites, manned satellite stations, etc.

"How to Read Better and Faster" by Norman Lewis. A revised edition presenting up to the minute information on reading faster with understanding, dynamic comprehension and skimming.

"4-H News" Nimbly Thimble. The 4-H pledge and devotions opened Thursday evening's meeting of the Nimbly Thimble 4-H Club at the home of Sandra Birkhimer.

A demonstration on how to make peanut butter cookies was given by Ruth McCormick. Mary Jane Mathews and Ruth McCormick played a flute duet. It was suggested that the club purchase a flag.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. A health and safety meeting will be held June 3 at the home of Janet Wagmiller.

Butler Jolly Workers. The Butler Jolly Workers 4-H Club met recently at the home of Beth and Kendra Phillips. Programs were distributed, and Midge Kerr was elected tax stamp chairman.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H pledge, Kendra Phillips read the devotions.

The following demonstrations were presented: Modeling, Pat Denny; bathing and clothing a baby, Beth Phillips; and how to make and equip a sewing basket, Kendra Phillips.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be June 4 at the home of Mrs. Maryle Blasiman, with Donna and Kay Cameron serving as hostesses.

BECAUSE any parent is proud of their son when people point him out as an alert, reliable, young businessman, who is using his spare time every day to serve his neighborhood with his most popular newspaper.

We are glad, too, because such work enables him to earn so much of the money he needs for clothes, sports, hobbies, and fun—as well as build up a savings account that will help him go on to college. Also, because his route supplements his school studies so nicely with practical business experience.

MOST OF ALL, we are happy because his daily newspaper work is helping him to develop into a more manly, self-reliant and resourceful young fellow. And that's why we both are giving him every encouragement to make a success of this first business venture which means so much to his future.

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Every so often a novel comes along that in a very quiet way has a shattering impact on the reader. Such a book is "The Stars Grow Pale" by Karl Bjarnhof which tells in a perceptive way about a Danish boy who is called lazy, clumsy, and inattentive, until people gradually realize that he is growing blind.

"As Far As You'll Take Me" by Lorna Whishaw is a different type of travel book. Mrs. Whishaw hitch-hiked along the Trans-Canada and Alaska highways riding with truck-drivers and seeing Alaska as few tourists ever do.

"September MOON" by John Moore. In Herefordshire when boys are ripe, old grudges, and young love seem to mature along with the crops. This is a tale of events in the valley when the hop-pickers arrive to bring in the harvest.

"A Dangerous Innocence" by Victoria Lincoln. In seventeenth century Salem, young Ann Evansham hints that her husband's old servant is a witch and becomes involved herself. Though this has the same setting as "Winthrop Woman" the plot is entirely different.

"Destiny in Sallas" by Shirley Seifert. On April 3, 1858 Alec Cockerell, leading citizen of Dallas, was returning to his wife and business when the town marshal attempted to satisfy his envious hate on a false charge that led to tragedy.

"Reckoning at Yankee Flat" by Will Henry. Western adventure concerning a bitter feud between a newspaperman and an outlaw which comes to a violent end in Virginia City.

"None of Maigret's Business" by George Simenon. Finding a corpse and solving the mystery hardly interrupt Maigret's vacation.

"The Copper Scrolls" by Nathaniel Weinreb. An imaginary picture of the Qumran community and the events leading up to the hiding of the Dead Sea Scrolls.

"The Land Is Bright" by Jim Kjelgaard. Colin Campbell, southern gentleman in pre-Civil War Virginia, had fine horses, a fine girl, and the friendship of Ling Stewart of the Blue Ridge. When war came Colin marched away at the head of the Blue Ridge men.

"Affair at Helen's Court" by E. C. Rivett. There was a lot of talk about Helen's Court, which was just too beautiful to be a medical home and about Dr. Ravensworth, its head.

"Beyond Wind River" by Les Savage, Jr. Frank Ives found himself on the wrong side of a fight between two Wyoming ranchers.

"The Gentle Tamers" by Dee Brown. The stories of twenty-four women of frontier days and the hardships they suffered, the dangers they faced from disease, Indians, outlaws and nature.

"World Politics" by A.F.K. Oranski. A history of international politics in modern times with special attention to the "balance of power" relationship between nations. The author surveys the ability of the United States to maintain world leadership.

"American Knives" by Harold Peterson. An expert in the field of arms and armor gives the history of American Knives tells why they are being collected, and gives suggestions for collectors.

Former Nurse Held n Death 11 Years Ago

NEW BOSTON, Tex. (AP)—A former Army nurse was held for murder today in the death of a baby whose body was said to have been kept in a trunk for 11 years. Sheriff W. J. Watlington of neighboring Texarkana, Tex., lodged a murder charge late Sunday against auburn-haired Mrs. Rose Powers, 46.

The sheriff quoted the tall, comely nurse as telling officers she bore the child illegitimately 11 years ago while living alone in a house trailer near Augusta, Ga.

He said her only explanation for keeping the body was: "I just couldn't bear to get rid of it."

Watlington said her husband Elburn Powers, 42, called officers after discovering the body in his wife's steel foot locker Saturday night.

"She was charged with murder because she had a dead body in her possession and no satisfactory explanation as far as we were concerned," the sheriff told newsmen.

He said the partly decomposed body was packed amid clothing with a preservative powder. A physician told investigators, however, that he could not determine the cause of death nor the sex of the baby.

Watlington said Mrs. Powers came here from Nashville, Tenn., three weeks ago to work as a registered nurse in the county hospital of this northeast Texas town.

Authorities at Vanderbilt Hospital, where she had been working, recommended her highly the sheriff reported.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO There are tranquilizing words from Mill Town, U.S.A. to a jittery nation. I've just driven through nearly 1,000 miles of behemoth plants and every word that will get rougher is July and August, at last the steel industry will begin pulling out of the recession beginning some September day.

And as steel goes, so goes the nation.

The men who report this are as hard-headed as the steel they roll. They're sheaves of statistics. They simply report that by September the warehouses everywhere will be empty of "inventory" — stockpiled steel. It will have been consumed.

After that manufacturers, road builders, construction contractors, developers of the new intercontinental ballistic missile bases, of schools, skyscrapers, new homes and atomic submarines—and even auto manufacturers—will have to start buying steel again.

These experts point out that the decline in steel began a year ago last March. Industry bought less and less until last month when steel production was down to 47 per cent of what the nation's mills can turn out at full blast. Then sales began to inch up. As I write, I work from a memorandum showing that the next figure will be 51 per cent.

BUT THE MEMO also says don't expect the mills to recall their laid off steelworkers until October or November. Then the men will be able to pull out of their long winter nightmare.

But comes July 1, there will be some consolation in the automatic increase in wages for the hundreds of thousands of steel men still at work. No one can tell you exactly how much more will go into pay envelopes. But the best estimates put the total increase at 12 million dollars more a month under the contract signed after the last steel strike in 1956. There will be a 7 to 13 cents an hour general wage boost. In addition, there will be a cost-of-living increase.

WANTS "WATCHDOG" — A congressional watchdog subcommittee is needed to "ride herd" on the House Foreign Affairs Committee. So says its acting chairman, Thomas E. Morgan, above. Morgan says his committee will consider creation of the monitoring unit after the multibillion-dollar foreign aid bill clears Congress.

Drive-In, Columbiana Merchants Win Softball Contests

Old Dutch Rips East Liverpool

Dairy Queen, Friends Score Victories

No-hitters by Bill Buckman of Old Dutch and Bancroft of Friend's Church, plus a rash of home runs by several players, highlighted the play over the weekend in the Salem Softball Association.

In Saturday night's games, Old Dutch beat East Liverpool 12-0, Friends whipped the Sportsmen 9-0 and Dairy Queen beat Hanoverton 8-4.

On Sunday, Drive-In defeated Ray's Beverage 8-0, and Columbiana Merchants trampled Tolson's 8-1.

BUCKMAN WHIFFED nine East Liverpool batters and was backed up by homeruns by Bounce Grimes and Charlie Blue. Four Old Dutch hitters each collected two raps.

The winners scored three times in the first and fifth frames and wrapped up the contest in the sixth with six more tallies.

Friend's Bancroft walked only one man and struck out six in his no-hit performance. Tom Cope blasted an inside the park homer for the winners while teammate Murphy had two hits.

The victors scored five times in the second and three times in the third to wrap up the abbreviated contest.

SIX RUNS IN THE top of the seventh inning pushed Dairy Queen past Hanoverton. Dick Boughton had two hits for the winners, while Jack Myers had two singles for the losers, including an inside the park homer.

In another short game, Drive-In scored six times in the last of the fifth to blank Ray's Beverage.

The losers got only two hits off Bruce Feicht, and they were both by Ron Stanley.

Feicht helped his own cause with an inside the park circuit clout.

Dave Hiner, Jerry Hendricks and Feicht had two hits each for the winners.

THREE HITS BY Lee Utterbach and two each by Huffman and Guthrie paced Columbiana over Tolson's. Bob Love had two hits for the losers.

Don Knight hit a homer against the left centerfield scoreboard for the winners.

The losers got but four hits off winning pitcher Gene Logue.

Tonight's schedule is as follows: 6:30, Lincoln vs Sportsmen; 7:45, Stepanic vs East Liverpool; 9, Jack's Bar vs Bayard Grange.

Quaker Tracksters Scoreless In Meet

The Salem High School track team failed to register a point in the Class AA meet held in Columbus Friday and Saturday.

The 880-yard relay team of Bob Howard, Henry Maxim, Fred McNeal and Bill Holzwarth was disqualified in Friday's prelims. Holzwarth failed to place in the 180-yard low hurdles and Jim Horn in the pole vault.

Springfield won the Class AA title and Xenia the Class A crown.

Pitching—Taylor Phillips, Cubs, limited his former Milwaukee mates to six hits for first major league shutout as Chicago won the first game of a doubleheader 1-0.

BOY CATCHES WHOPPER—Tom Grace, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grace of Diehl Lake, entered the first bass in the Diehl Lake big bass fishing contest currently underway.

The boy, shown above with his prize, caught a largemouth bass weighing four pounds, 12 ounces just before dusk Saturday. The fish measured 21 inches in length. Tom used a spinning rod and painted plastic minnow to capture the bass.

The annual contest is open to members and their families. Last year two bass each weighing over five pounds were caught at the lake.

Golf Teams to Open Competition

Elder, Goshen, Springfield, Xenia Win Ohio Sport Titles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Golf—perhaps the least heralded of spring sports in most high schools—has the spotlight all to itself today.

Delayed because of a conflict in schedules with the Big Ten golf championships, state title play among high school golf teams opened today at Ohio State University's course. Cincinnati St. Xavier is defending champion.

The baseball, track and tennis crowns have already been fought for and won. The battlefield was Ohio State, where the annual spring sports competition is being held.

Yankees Win Two From Tribe 6-1, 6-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—All hopes the Cleveland Indians had of slowing down the New York Yankees' runaway in the American League went over the right field fence at Municipal Stadium Sunday.

The Yanks hit three home runs there—each with two men aboard—and swept a doubleheader, 6-1 and 6-3, before 40,156 spectators.

Cards Split With Redlegs 4 to 2, 7 to 3

CINCINNATI (AP)—If you want to look at just half of Sunday's doubleheader, there was plenty for Manager Birdie Tebbetts to grin about with his Cincinnati Redlegs.

He finally got a full game—and a victory to boot—from southpaw Harvey Haddix.

He got two choice hits from slump-ridden shortstop Roy McMillan.

He got one of those Redleg rarities nowadays—a homer—from first sacker Steve Bilko.

All that was in the second game which the Reds won, 7-3. The St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Rhinelanders, 4-2, in the opener.

Haddix was touched for 11 hits, but he spaced them so skillfully that St. Louis offered little trouble except in the last two innings.

In the eighth inning, Ken Boyer belted a home run for the Cards' second run. In the ninth, with two out, St. Louis punched out a run when Don Blasingame hit into a force play and Dick Schofield doubled him home.

Haddix got slugger Stan Musial to foul out and end the game.

Redleg hitting, held under a check rein in the opener, began to warm up in the fourth inning of the nightcap with a four-run, four-hit outburst.

Bilko cracked his homer to start things off and another run followed on consecutive doubles by Smokey Burgess and Don Hoak.

Gus Bell was walked on purpose and McMillan stepped in with a timely single.

At first it looked like only one run would score, but Cardinal outfielder Curt Flood bobbled the ball and Bell came in.

The Reds finally knocked starter Lindy McDaniel out of the box in the sixth with two more runs. Again McMillan came through with a two-run hit—this time a double.

Haddix got in on the final Redleg scoring in the eighth, doubling and trotting home on Bob Thurman's pinch-double.

In the first game the Cards got ahead early and stayed ahead, aided mainly by pitching of starter Jim Brosnan.

The Cards reached Charley Rabe for all their runs, starting with two in the second inning.

A single by Hoak and Bell's double cut the lead to one run in the second inning, but St. Louis swarmed back with two more markers in the third.

Cincinnati wrenched loose for one more run in the seventh, but a former teammate, Bill Wright, shut off the rally.

The Reds have a day off today, but return to action Tuesday night against Chicago's Cubs in the first of two games.

Minnesota Wins Big Ten Baseball Title

By The Associated Press

Minnesota's Gophers stepped out with a double triumph over Michigan State Saturday to win the Big Ten baseball championship.

Placed in a position of must, the Gophers topped the Spartans, 3-2 and 3-1, to finish the conference campaign with an 11-3 record. Michigan State finished second with a 10-5 mark.

Ohio State, although beaten by Illinois twice, finished third with a 9-6 record. Illinois defeated the Buckeyes 10-5 and 5-1, and finished with an 8-6 record, third game off the Minnesota pace.

In other games, Wisconsin dumped Northwestern's defending champions, 6-2 and 9-1, while Michigan defeated Iowa's sophomore aggregate, 7-3 and 6-5. Purdue whipped Indiana, 5-3, but lost the nightcap, 6-1.

Wisconsin finished with an 8-7 record followed by Indiana and Michigan who tied for sixth with 7-8 marks. Purdue (6-8) finished ahead of Northwestern's Wildcats (4-10) and Iowa occupied the cellar with a 3-12 record.

Two doubles by Russ Martin and a single gave Illinois a first game triumph over Ohio State while Frank Schwartz, Illini ace, limited Ohio State to only five hits in the second contest.

NEW YORK (AP)—A new life dawned for Roy Campanella today.

The ex-Dodger Catcher and three-time Most Valuable Player in the National League was lifted out of bed and placed in a wheelchair for the first time since his tragic automobile accident, Jan. 28 left him paralyzed from the waist down.

His playing days over, Campy not only found himself off his back, but all set to take up a new job offered to him by New York's Gov. Averell Harriman.

The state's chief executive looked in on Campanella Sunday and told him that an $8,000-a-year post as deputy boxing commissioner was his for the asking.

"His face lit up and he said he had always been interested in boxing and would be glad to take on the job," reported Gov. Harriman.

The governor said Campy can start the job right now while undergoing treatment at the New York University-Bellevue Medical Center if he desires.

"A minimum effort on the part of Roy is tantamount to a maximum contribution to boxing," Gov. Harriman added. "He will give the public a guarantee of honest boxing."

Gov. Harriman, once an ardent Dodger fan, said Campy appeared "as fit as I've ever seen him," except for the fact that his neck is in a brace to prevent further injury to his spine.

Dr. Donald A. Covall, assistant director of the department treating Campy reported a "limited locomotion of both arms."

There's a whale of a race going on in the American League—for second place.

Forgetting the New York Yankees—and how those other seven clubs wish they could—the teams are so closely congregated that only three games separate second place Boston and eighth place Washington.

Alas, the runner-up Red Sox are nine games behind the runaway Yankees, who swept a doubleheader from Cleveland Sunday 6-1 and 6-3. Boston beat Chicago 6-3 in the first game but the White Sox gained a split with a 4-3 victory at Stopped Baltimore 4-0.

Detroit vacated the cellar for Washington, defeating the Senators twice 7-2 and 6-3, and Kansas City stopped Baltimore 4-0.

The San Francisco Giants widened their first place National League lead to 2½ games over Milwaukee, winning a pair from Pittsburgh 5-2 and 6-1. Chicago split with Milwaukee. The Cubs won the first game 1-0 behind ex-Brave Taylor Phillips and the defending champions won the second game behind ex-Cub Bob Rush 5-2. In another split, St. Louis won the first game 4-2 and Cincinnati took the second 7-3. Rain prevented Los Angeles and Philadelphia from playing their scheduled single game.

Boston is the only American League club other than the Yankees with a better than .500 won-lost percentage. The margin is a mere one victory, 19-18.

Luis Aparicio's only hit—a ninth inning single—drove in Jim Landis with the run that gave Billy Pierce and the White Sox the second game triumph.

Home runs did it for the Yankees against Cleveland. Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the first game was enough for Whitey Ford, who pitched a six-hitter for his fifth victory. Three-run homers by Elston Howard and Enos Slaughter in the sixth inning of the nightcap gave Johnny Kucks his third victory. Dick Tomanek was going along smoothly until he gave way under the six-run barrage. Mickey Mantle hit safely in both games to run his batting streak to 14 games.

Jim Bunning and Hank Aguirre pitched the Tigers to their second and third straight victories on the heels of their nine-game losing streak. The defeats dropped Washington in the basement, three percentage points behind Detroit.

Four Children Killed by Blaze in Cleveland Home

10 Die In Ohio Road Mishaps

By The Associated Press
Ten fatalities in traffic accidents involving a car, a cow and a man—were reported in Ohio over the weekend. In addition, there were six miscellaneous deaths, including four children who died in a Cleveland fire.

The strange accident in Auglaize County involving a cow was reconstructed this way by Coroner Dr. Richard H. Schaefer:

A 78-year-old man was leading a cow from watering to pasture at dusk Saturday. A car hit the cow, knocking it 42 feet down the road. Apparently the animal struck the man who fell to the pavement and received fatal head injuries.

The Cleveland fire snuffed out the lives of a 5-year-old boy and his three younger sisters, one only six months old. Another sister, age 7, was rescued but suffered smoke injuries. Three other children in the family, along with their mother, who is separated from her husband, were away from home when the fire broke out about midnight Saturday.

The two other miscellaneous deaths were drownings.

The fatalities:
James E. Petty, 2, Cleveland, struck near his home by a hit-skip driver.

Thomas Morley, 4, Huntsburg (Geauga County), hit by a car on Ohio 322 in Geauga County.

James M. Cligrow, postmaster at Mechanicsburg, in a head-on auto collision on Ohio 4 four miles north of that Champaign County town.

Saturday:
Stephen Novotny, 70, The Plains, drowned in Margaret Creek

(Athens County) after apparently falling while fishing.

Donald O'Brien, 33, North Olmsted, when his motorcycle collided with a truck at the intersection of Ohio 5 and 627 about 10 miles east of Ravenna.

Michael Bowling, 7, and his mother, Mrs. Lola Bowling, 43, Cincinnati, in a head-on auto collision at the north edge of the city.

Michael Benik, 13, Akron, when a car hit his bicycle in the city.

Cecil Junior Wise, 29, Pomeroy, drowned in the Ohio River when his boat capsized.

Raymond D. Stroup, 11, Rt. 1, Williamsport, drowned in Big Darby Creek near Darbyville (pickaway County) after going wading while on a fishing expedition.

Rudolph Bachman, 78, knocked to the pavement when a car hit a cow he was leading to pasture across Ohio 67 in Auglaize County.

Sunday:
Robert Patton, 5, and his sisters, Rena, 4, Virginia, 3, and Beverly, 6 months, in a second floor fire in their home in Cleveland.

George L. Moore, 34, Morral (Marion County), when a car in which he was riding ran off U. S. 305 about 10 miles west of Marion.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Sciatica Treatments Vary

Mrs. M. H. writes that she is "a sad sufferer from sciatics," and as she grows older the trouble does not subside as quickly as it once did. She requests a discussion of this subject.

This term gets its name from a nerve called the sciatic nerve which runs from the buttocks down the back of the leg. Normally, of course, this nerve is useful to us in serving the muscles and other tissues of that area.

Sciatica is generally used to describe pain in the area supplied by this nerve and is certainly unpleasant. In the past it was usually considered a single disease, but now it is thought to be present from any one of several different causes.

The most simple type of sciatica is neuritis from inflammation of the nerve itself.

This can result from such conditions as diabetes, any infection elsewhere in the body such as diseased tonsils, rheumatic disorder or vitamin deficiencies.

If such is the case, treatment is aimed at identifying the source of the trouble and correcting it. In this variety of sciatic neuritis the administration of vitamin B-1 may sometimes prove helpful.

Many doctors believe that sciatic pain is most often caused by a hernia or rupture of the cartilage-like substance which lies between the vertebra of the spinal column or in the nerve roots near the spinal discs.

When this is responsible for pain a variety of treatments may be tried, including placing the spine under traction. This stretches the head and feet in opposite directions.

Unfortunately, age is a factor both in treatment and recovery. One can hope, however, that Mrs. H. and others like her will have less rather than more trouble as time goes on.

Excess Wheat Disposal Deadline June 11

Farmers who have "excess" wheat acreage have less than a month in which to dispose of it and thus qualify for price support and Soil Bank Acreage Reserve payments. L. L. Moff, Chairman of the Mahoning County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today. The deadline for disposing of wheat acreage is June 11.

Under both the wheat price support program and the wheat Acreage Reserve Program, farmers who have excess wheat acreage are permitted to bring their farms into compliance by disposing of the excess acreage, but this must be done within a stated period of time.

Both programs specify that only farmers who are in compliance with their acreage allotments are eligible to receive (1) price support on their 1958 wheat crop, and (2) 1958 Soil Bank payments on wheat land placed in the Acreage Reserve.

Notices have been sent to all growers who have excess wheat acreage which must be disposed of before the deadline. Should farmers have any question about compliance with the wheat farm allotment, they are urged to get in touch immediately with the County ASC office, 7 W. Main St., Canfield, for further information.
